Stories Showing' that it is No lways Best to Go Slow on Railroads.

From the Car-Buildar

A passenger train on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road was rounding a sharp curve, just under a piece of tall timber. The watchful engineer saw a tree lying across the track sixty feet ahead of the locomotive. The train was running at the track sixty feet ahead of the locomotive. The train was running at the tive. The train was running at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, and to check its momentum before teaching the obstruction was out of the question. The engineer took in the situation at a glance. He three the throttle wide open, the engine shot ahead with the velocity of an arrow, and with such force that the tree was nicked up, by the cowcatcher and picked up by the cow-catcher and flung from the track as if it had been LIMBER-—AND——TIMBERS. a willow withe. A man with not so cool a head woold have made the best cool a head woold have made the best possible use of those sixty feet in the way of checking the speed of the train. That would have caused a disaster.

Bradford, an engineer, was bringing an express train over the Kankakee line from Indianapolis. As the engine shot out from the deep cut and struck a short piece of straight track leading to a bridge, a herd of colts was discovered running down the road. The distance to the river was only one hundred feet. Bradford only one hundred teet. Bradford knew he could not stop the train, and also knew that if the colts beat the locomotive to the bridge they would fall between the timbers, and the ob-struction would throw the train off, and probably result in a frightful loss of life. It took him only half a second to think of all this. The other half was utilized in giving his engine such a quantity of steam that it covered that one hundred feet of track in about the same time that a bolt of lightning would travel from the top of a lightning rod to the ground. The colts were struck and hurled down the embankment just as they were entering the bridge.

RECKLESS PLEDGES.

Saturday's Appeal touches upon one of the greatest abuses, not to call it a crime, of our political system. Candidates for office hesitate at no promise which will help their cause. They will pledge themselves to absolute impossibilites to get votes, nay, more: if popular opinion sets in any certain direction, many candidates out-Herod Herod, in the excess of their zeal in Herod, in the excess of their zeal in the same direction. They will seize the unpopular issue and press it with furious language and extravagant of 800. These losses are not so much charges. When the people are wild the result of extreme weather as of the improvidence of the stock men. with hate they promise to entirely remove the evil. Now the other candihis opponent says it is. If he says the man is lying, and cannot do half that he promises, they will say he is

One thing we feel perfectly safe in saying, and that is, that when those men came to redeem the rash pledges they had made, upon matters of which they were very ignorant, they to death and the bodies were only to death and the bodies were only found difficulties of which they had never even read or heard. Instead of finding the railroad question a simple and easy one, they found a problem which had been legislated upon in every land, the round world over, and every where with the same result. They found that instead of cast iron tariffs, the rates were shifting and changing every day. They found them bobbing up and down like buoys, upon the sea of business. They found that if they made an inflexible tariff by and from 2 to 4 Saturday afternoon, Terms law and adjourned, that the railroads $1 per week in advance. Should a sufficient number of pupils be obtained, he will also would be severely cramped if not ruined, and that many rates would be raised higher than they were before. All the laws proposed were crude and ill shaped. Not one of them would have stood a show in any of the Eastern states that have been through railroad wars. The Appeal, however, evades our question. It is the duty of a public teacher to point out, not only the evil, but a remedy. If the Appeal will give us its plan, we will discuss it soberly, and if it is practidelegation to it.

The press of western Nevada seems rather inclined to independence this The Republican party will have a hard time to please everybody. The Carson Tribune will oppose it if it nominates Grant. The Appeal will oppose it if it does not oppose railroads. The Enterprise will support it if it bounces the Central Pacific but not if it hurts the V. &. T. The Ga-ZETTE will fight any demogoguery and expose all jobs in friend or foe. The News is the most stalwart of the lot and will swallow Grant, Sharon or anybody else. The Democratic papers are all stalwarts of course.

Mr. Niles of Carson is canvassing Reno for advertising in the Nevada Monthly, the first number of which will be issued about the middle of the present month. The initial number will contain an article descriptive of Washoe valley, and will treat of a variety of topics bearing upon the mineral, agricultural and industrial interests of Nevada.

A telegram from Battle Mountain to the GAZETTE to-day announces the completion of the Nevada Central railroad. The builders, the company, and the people of that section have our hearty congratulations.

An Obliging Young Fellow

Young Pelham of Manorville, Wis., desired to commit suicide. He swallowed poison in the presence of a young woman, in her own parlor; but ahe said a scandal would be the result if he died there, and he obligingly took the antidote that she got for him. Soon afterward he drank poison in whiskey at a bar; but the proprietor complained that a suicide in the place might lead to a revocation of the license. Selham submitted to the use of a stomach pump. His next and effectual effort was to hang himself.

The I X L District-Mining Items, Etc

H. C. Marker and Roger S. Day left here for I X L, on Tuesday of last week. They returned yesterday. They report a pleasant trip and everything lovely. They went the new route and reached I X L in five and a half hours. They had two horses and 600 pounds freight. From here to Car's hotel, on the west side of the mountain, it is 28 miles, so tally 1 for our side. Mr. Marker has a hay corral and lumber yard there, and the prospect is that it will be a lively camp this arrival.

A stamp mill is being put up at Oreana by parties there. Geo. Lovelocks keeps on at work in Trinity. He has lately sold an interest in one of his many mines to parties in San Francisco. He has the most unbounded faith in them, and we sincerely hope he may realize all be anticipates.

A Good Crop This Year.

Yesterday a GAZETTE reporter visited F. Lemmon's ranch, which is situated about eleven miles from town, on the Long valley road. Mr. Lemmon has a large ranch and farms it without irrigation, having ao water for that purpose. His crop depends on the snowfall in the mountains during winter. If plenty of snow falls, an abundant crop is assured. He says he has no fear of a short crop this year. There is too much snow on the hills and meuntains for that. ains for that. STRONG MEN.

The Pyramid Lake Italian-More Pa

Dute Gray knows of a man down at Pyramid whom he believes to be stronger than Caldera. The Pyramid man is, like Caldera, an Italian. Grav says he is at work in the J. & K. mine, and thinks the stalwart miner can lift Caldera and Caldera's load with him. He also ventures the assertion that after a fight between the two men, it would require seven bushel baskets to hold the fragments into which Caldera would be distributed. J. C. Hagerman thinks that with a week's practice he could handle Caldera himself, and Roger Johnson is trying to arrange a collar and elbow match between the two. Mr. Hagerman is strong as an ox, but Caldera is sup-posed to have the strength of a whole drove. The match would excite a great deal of interest here, but the odds would rather favor the Italian.

odds would rather favor the Italian.

Caldera was called upon again last Saturday evening by a GAZETTE reporter, in company with Mr. Niles, a newspaper man of Carson. Caldera is not disposed to make any more gratuitous private exhibitions, but after considerable urging, he lifted the Carson man on one finger, in the way already described in the GAZETTE. After twice raising him from the floor to the twice raising him from the floor to the table with the third finger of the right hand, Caldera grasped him by the ankles and alternately raised and lowered him in the air with as much ap-parent ease as if an infant were in his parent ease as it an intant were in his hands, instead of a man weighing 150 pounds. While doing all this, Caldera did not remove his pipe from his mouth, but smoked as though the business in hand did not call for much effort. He told his visitors that he had wrestled in San Francisco with the famous Andre Christol, whom he vanquished.

Anyone who has use for a strong man can employ Caldera, as he wants to get work and talks of leaving Reno.

A Fresh Discovery.

Since Lew Davis, James Doran and Charles Doyle, charged with being accessories after the fact to tho murder of Tom Laswell, were discharged from custody by Justice Young last Saturday, Sheriff Walker has visited the cabin where Fitzgerald was cap-tured. The sheriff found several articles of ladies' wearing apparel con-cealed beneath the floor, indicating that some one had brought them to Fitzgerald to enable him to escape in

A Slow But Determined Pursuit. The Salt Lake man who was at Wadsworth in search of his runaway wife and her lover, has departed for Bodie on a freight team. Deputy Sheriff Lewis thinks he means to carry out his threat to kill them both. The injured husband is described as a pretty tough customer. He told a Wads-worth man that he won a prize fight at Battle Mountain not long since. The Bodie folks may expect to have a trag-edy in their midst about the first of next week.

EDITOR GAZETTE: - Reviewing the istory of the past year, much of interest may be said or written on the above subject, both to our citizens and transient visitors. The above organization, as it now exists, deems it but just that the public should know the nature of the same and its purposes. At our last regular meeting, on motion, it was ordered that a committee of one be appointed to write, and submit to the secret council for their approval, a statement for publication, and in accordance therewith I send you the following.
Our organization is a strong one-

None deplore the necessity of this step more than we, the members, do. But, by reviewing events of the past, we find that murders have been committed in our midst and the guilty have gone unpunished. Confederates in crime cluster around the criminal, and after long and expensive trials the law proves a farce, Justice is baffled and our treasury depleted, while bus-iness men must add to the the burdens of the consumer and our fertile valley must contribute its entire profits to defray the expenses caused sient pimps, tramps and desperate characters, who contribute nothing, but prey upon the community. Our Tar Brigade ('though now a thing of the past) did much good work; but gotten up on the spur of the moment, without careful organization, it served its purpose and disbanded. In its stead stands an organization composed of men who know and trust each other, who have no malice to work out, and whose only aim is to promote the welfare of our common interests. Some persons have recently sent cowardly letters, signed "601", to various persons. This we regret, and can only say they emanated from neither the old nor new organization, and the sender, if found, (and we want him) will be introduced in a very unceremo nious manner to our secret council. In order to disarm such cowards hereafter, I send a copy of our seal for publication, assuring the public that we, more than all others, deplore the necessity of sending notices.

WE WILL, AT THE RISK OF OUR LIVES, ENFORCE OUR MANDATES, RE-GARDLESS OF CONSEQUENCES. We send

but one notice. WE NEVER FORGET the party to whom it is sent. Believing that each person or organ-ization should stand or fall upon its own merits, we will deem any person or persons, (not properly authorized) who use our signature or name in any spurious notice, worthy our imme diate attention.

SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and falls to cure.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the arrinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain: Since we first established our business here. March ist. 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jewelry and Watches often buying at a sow as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price.
